GREATEST TAX MEASURE IN HISTORY OF NATION IS READY FOR PASSAGE

New Revenue Bill Is Unanimously Approved

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The new revenue bill—greatest of all tax measures in the history of the nation—with a levy affecting every individual and business concern in the country was approved unanimously today by the house and means committee.

Chairman Kitchin will introduce the measure in the house tomorrow and ask that consideration of it begin next Friday. Leaders hope to send it to the senate within ten days after debate begins. The final committee estimate of the revenue to be yielded under the new bill is $8,012,792,000, as against $3,941,623,000 last year under the present law. The largest war profits—$3,100,000,000—and the next is from taxes on incomes—$1,482,186,000—from individuals and $828,000,000 from corporations. The increase in the taxes on the specified incomes of married persons without dependents is shown by the following table:

French Continue Advance East of Crecy au Mont

(By The Associated Press.)
PARIS, Sept. 2.—French troops are continuing their advance east of Crecy au Mont and Juvigny and have occupied Neuilly and Terny-Sorny, northeast of Soissons, according to the war announcement tonight.

The text of the statement says: "During the day our troops who last evening crossed the Canal du Nord, opposite Nesle, advanced to the east of the canal and have gained a footing on the western slopes of Hill 77, we took prisoners. Between the Ailette and the Aisne we continued our progress on the plateau east of Crecy-au-Mont and Juvigny despite the enemy's stubborn resistance. We occupied Neuilly and Terny-Sorny and have advanced north of Crouy."

"Bad weather interfered with the aerial operations on Sept. 1. Nevertheless our enemy airplanes were brought down and one captive balloon was set afire. During the night 9,866 kilos of bombs were dropped on the railway stations at Marl, Laon and Ham causing fires. Eight tons of projectiles were dropped on Bivaux and on stations at Maison Bleue and Guignicourt."

With The French Army In France, Sept. 2.—(By The A. P.)
Huge fires which were seen in the direction of Vauxaillon northeast of Soissons at three o'clock this afternoon indicated that the enemy was burning his supplies. There is said to be nothing else inflammable in that region.

Today's successes completed the conquest of the Soissons plateau which will compel the Germans to retire to the Chemin-dames which itself is menaced by the French advance toward Vauxaillon.

PRESTON PEAK IN VOLCANIC ACTIVITY

YERKA, Cal., Sept. 2.—The Orleans lookout of the United States forest service reported to Supervisor Cartigan that at 1:25 p. m. today Preston Peak, 36 miles east of Crescent City, burst into volcanic activity.

According to the Orleans lookout the explosion was violent and hurled rocks and lava several hundred feet into the air. The smoke cloud from the peak covered a radius of five miles the observer reported.

Preston Peak is 7,300 feet high. May be Forest Fire.

Eureka, Cal., Sept. 2.—Possibility that the supposed volcanic eruption on Preston Peak, Siskiyou county, reported today, is in reality a forest fire is indicated by a report from a forest ranger at Lookout Mountain, fifteen miles from Crescent City, who says: "Slopes Mount Preston ablaze. No volcano."

AMERICANS HAVE PROUD RECORD

London, Sept. 2.—The Americans, says the correspondent of Reuters' Limited, at American headquarters in France, have so far never yielded ground in France and they kept that proud record inviolate by the successful advance on Juvigny, after three days and nights of the bitterest fighting. The correspondent says that the Americans encountered a stout-hearted and extremely skillful enemy, showing no signs of a lowered morale.

Every foot of the way into Juvigny had to be contested, while machine gunners, who fought until none was left to fight. The Americans gained ground, the correspondent adds, the heaviest shelling with high explosives falling to loose their grip and not even twelve hours later, when the Germans flooded the valley, with gas.

LENINE REPORTED TO BE RECOVERING

LONDON, Sept. 2.—A Russian official wireless despatch received in London this evening from Moscow says: "At 9:30 o'clock Sunday night, Premier Lenin was sleeping very well. There was no inflammation in the wounds. There was a rise in temperature due to the effusion of blood in the Pleura."

GOVERNMENT WHEAT PRICE CONTINUES SAME

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—This year's government wheat price was continued in effect for the 1919 crop by President Wilson today in a proclamation fixing $2.20 as the minimum price at primary markets. Winter wheat will be sold at this price, but the president accompanied his proclamation with a statement giving notice that before the harvest of next spring he will appoint a commission to report on increased cost of farm labor and supplies to guide him in determining whether there shall be an advance in price for the spring crop.

Such an advance, if given, the president said, will apply only to producers who by that time have marketed their 1918 production. The possibility of peace before the middle of 1920 was touched upon in the president's statement in connection with risk that by guaranteeing wheat prices the government might lose as much as half a billion dollars if Europe should find its supplies available from the southern hemisphere.

WELL KNOWN SHIPBUILDER DEAD

Philadelphia, Sept. 2.—Thomas Mason, general superintendent of the New York Shipbuilding company, who was killed in building the cargo carrier Tuckahoe in the world's record time of 27 days, is dead at his home in Camden, N. J. He had been ill nearly two months.

Director-General Schwab was so impressed by the ability displayed by Mason in the work on the Tuckahoe that he presented him with a gold watch.

TRIBUTE PAID LATE SENATOR NEWLANDS

They will entrain September 19. Illinois allotments are two, the Bremen school building, Chicago, with a quota of 155, and the Loyola plan here. Miss Minneapolis finished third.

War News Summary

News of Activities On Various Battle Fronts in Summarized Form By Associated Press.

Over a front of thirty miles from the region of Arras to Peronne, Field Marshal Haig's forces have literally smashed the German front.

The southern portion of the famous Drocourt-Quent switch line which had been heralded as the impregnable bulwark of the German defense in the north has given way under the violence of the British onslaught over its entire front from the Scarpe river to Queant, a distance of virtually ten miles and Monday night saw the Canadian and English troops who carried out the maneuver hard after the defeated enemy some three miles to the eastward.

Thousands of prisoners have been taken from the strongly resisting enemy who at last accounts was fighting violently as he gave ground toward the canal du Nord.

By this victory seemingly is ended the menace of the Hindenburg line to the south which the British are gradually approaching over its entire front. Already thoroughly outflanked on the north and with the French well upon its southern base military necessity apparently will require that the Germans relinquish the Hindenburg fortifications and realign their front from Flanders to Rheims in order to avert disaster at the hands of now swiftly moving allies.

Already the roads to Douai, Cambrai and St. Quentin are thoroughly invested by the British and French armies while north of Soissons the French and Americans are in positions of vantage from which they carry out turning movements which will outflank Laon and the Chemin-dames and Aisne lines. The situation of the enemy viewed from the war maps is the most perilous he has yet been in.

Added to the troubles of the German high command is the situation that is fast developing in the region around Ypres, where the Germans daily are being forced out of their positions by the British and American troops. All over this sector steady progress is being made eastward in the blotting out of the salient that has long existed there. The Americans, who took Voormezele Sunday now are well into the east of the town notwithstanding the strong resistance of the Germans who endeavor to bar their way.

A few more strides by Haig's men in this region and Armentieres will be within striking distance.

After Armentieres it is but a step to Lille.

Hard fighting has been in progress between the British and Germans around Peronne, where Australians successfully withstood violent attacks and have taken several thousand prisoners. Between Peronne and Bapaume the Germans also have imposed strong opposition to the British, but the St. Pierre Vaast wood, Le Transloy and Allaines and Haut-Allaines all have been captured.

THE FAVORED SOUTH.

Because of the proximity of Camp Shelby to Hattiesburg, Miss., the population of that city has increased beyond the housing capacity. As a result the Hattiesburg Homestead association has been formed and an appeal is being made to patriotic citizens to subscribe for stock and make available a fund for the building of a large number of houses. The situation at Hattiesburg is the same as in a number of southern cities near cantonments, where more business is done now in a week's time than was formerly transacted in a year. Certainly the south has been especially favored in the location of so many cantonments and the strong friendships the south has at Washington have been fully attested.

A DAILY DUTY.

Each day every American soldier in France is confronted by a great duty. Our Army there has a great task to perform for our country, for the world, for civilization, and for humanity. Our soldiers are doing their duty with a courage and fidelity and efficiency that thrills every heart.

Each day every American citizen at home is confronted by a great duty, a duty as imperative upon him or her as the duty of our soldiers is upon them. The American people have a great task to perform. It is to support to the limit of their ability our Army, our Navy, our Country at war.

To work with increased energy and efficiency so that our national production may be increased; to economize in consumption so that more material and labor and transportation may be left free for the uses of the Government; and with the resultant savings to support the Government financially is the daily duty of every American. It is a duty that will be met by every American whose heart is with our soldiers in France, who glories in their courage and fighting ability and their success.

MOTOR VS HORSE

DRAWN VEHICLES.

The people should be greatly interested in the recent report made by the chief of the Jacksonville fire department showing that the maintenance of the two motor trucks for the present year has been less than $100. The horse driven vehicles expense for a like period was $2,000. Certainly the saving has been well worth while and that does not take into account the great efficiency in service which the motor trucks have made possible.

THE WAR IS VERY NEAR.

If people of this community needed any additional proof that this country is earnestly and seriously at war it would be found in the establishment of a military training corps at Illinois college. A few weeks hence will find the "old college on the hill" a military institution. The trustees of the college have authorized the signing of a contract with the government whereby the students 18 years of age and over will come under the strict military rules of the U. S. The military operation will be in charge of an officer detailed for that duty. Crampton hall will be the barracks and the present club house the mess hall. From reveille at 6:45 in the morning number of young men the students of the corps will be under the eye of their commanding officer. They will be fully equipped with uniforms and arms, draw the pay of privates and in every way have the same standing as the men in the cantonments. The government is simply using this method of training a larger number of young men quickly without assembling them at the cantonments—men who because of their schooling are expected to become readily efficient along certain lines.

It is the announced intention to have these young men in actual service not later than next July. This country now has 1200 or more soldiers in the army service. A military training camp is about to be established in the very midst of the city. Certainly the war is very near to the people of Jacksonville and Morgan county.

THE CHAUTAUQUA SPIRIT.

The Chautauqua for 1918 has closed. In a mere financial way it was not as successful as some of its predecessors, but considered from the program viewpoint it left nothing to be desired. Unfavorable weather and the fuel administrator's request served to cut down the receipts on several days. However, the 1918 Chautauqua was distinctly successful, and the directors who have devoted their time and thought so unselfishly to the enterprise deserve the full measure of credit. The management of a Chautauqua requires a vast amount of advance work during the months and weeks preceding the Chautauqua, and that activity must be supplemented by loose supervision. Those who make the Chautauqua in Jacksonville are not actuated by any personal consideration and have no hope of profit. The programs provided bring to the people the very best of literary and musical attractions at a comparatively insignificant cost. The community interest which results from a Chautauqua is well worth while and that is especially true at the present time.

Patriotism was the dominant note throughout the 1918 Chautauqua, and not a day's program passed without its distinct reference to the war. Those who heard the different lectures without doubt have a clearer understanding than they did before of what the war means, the progress which has been made and the problems which must be met later on. The Chautauqua, once said the Chautauqua, the most American thing in America, and the Chautauqua which has just closed here gives point to his comment.

Rippling Rhymes
By Walt Mason

Useful Labor.
I often hear a fellow say, when pointing to a neighbor, "I really think that idle jay should do some useful labor. He tramps the village selling books, and boring thus his betters; and in these times of war, gadzooks, we have need of letters. He ought to beg or steal a horse and work out his salvation, and make a bill of spinach grow, to help to feed the nation." Perhaps the neighbor's wearing bells, as on his path he's drifting; perhaps the cloth-bound books he sells are loyal and uplifting. It well may chance his helpful tones inspire some husky critter to go and cleave some Teuton domes, and make the Kaiser bitter. I've never found it safe or sane to judge the other fellow, to say his motives are vain, or that his course is yellow. We all can't labor with our hands, with energy untiring; we can't hew wood or till the lands, or keep the forge fires burning. For some must clerk and some must preach, or run the railway station, and some must take their clubs and teach the rising generation. The doctor cannot leave his sick who look to him for healing, because some loud offensive hick of slackers still is spilling. Before I'd throw darksome hints, or whisper things abusive, I'd have to have the charts and prints and diagrams conclusive.

BALDWIN KNOCKS OUT OPPONENT IN THREE ROUNDS.

Al. Baldwin, of this city, well known boxer, knocked out Carl Schwehn, of Fort Wayne, Ind., in a match for the lightweight championship of Camp Shelby last Friday night. Baldwin put on the finishing punch in the third round, after being the Camp Shelby American said, groggy in the second. However, Al must not have been groggy, else he would not have had so much steam behind his punches.

Baldwin will nook up with Henseley next Friday night for ten rounds as an opener to the Martin-Klinke bout of the heavy weight championship of the army. There is another fighter down in Camp Shelby named Young Mountain, who disputes Baldwin's claim to the championship of the camp, and they probably will be matched soon.

Baldwin knocked out Schwehn with three blows over the heart, followed by a punch to the chin. Previous to this he had punched his opponent all over the ring, chiding him at times from the body to the face and back again. The bout was witnessed by 5,000 men.

MEETING HELD FOR MAYOR THOMPSON

Large Audience Heard Address of Frank D. Ayers, Chicago Lawyer at Court House.

A large audience assembled at the court house Monday night for the meeting held in the interest of Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago, who is now a candidate for the Republican nomination for the U. S. senate. Charles B. Graft, as chairman of the Morgan County Republican Central committee presided and introduced as the speaker of the evening Hon. Frank D. Ayers, a Chicago attorney. The meeting had been preceded by a stirring program of music by the DeSolve drum corps.

Assailed by Business.
Mr. Ayers was heard with close interest thru a long address and then the audience viewed a motion picture filmed to present both the interests of Mayor Thompson and of William A. Mason, who is a candidate for congressman-at-large.

Mr. Ayers vigorously opposed the charge that Mayor Thompson is in any way German and explained in detail various charges made against the mayor. One of the principal statements made was that the opposition to Mayor Thompson was supported by influential Chicago newspapers and corporations because the mayor had attacked those who were making enormous profits from the war. His point was that men engaged in the business should not be allowed to make high percentages of profits while the people were appealed to to invest their earnings in Liberty bonds at 4 per cent.

Answered Charges.
The speaker explained the charge made that the mayor did not invite the French commission to Chicago and other matters of criticism were taken up and discussed in detail. Mr. Ayers claimed that Mayor Thompson was so much of a business man that he had raised the pay of teachers, firemen and policemen in Chicago, made various other improvements and still had saved the taxpayers at least a million and a half dollars.

In reviewing the mayor's record in Chicago the speaker referred to the important service rendered when the mayor settled the street car strike. He reviewed his action in closing for the first time saloons on Sunday and made the claim that during his administration the police department has been divorced from politics. As indicative of the mayor's patriotism, Mr. Ayers cited his activity in Liberty bond work and referred to the various proclamations he has issued in which his reverence for the stars and stripes is evidenced.

CHAUTAUQUA CLOSES WITH FINE PROGRAM

Sunday's Events Interested Large Audiences — War Lecture By Italian Army Officer Last Number On Program.

While the chautauqua had suffered so severely on account of bad weather it went out Sunday night in a blaze of glory, a perfect day, hardly any dust, a fair attendance which would have been a record breaker had it not been for the gasoline economizing request. A Sunday school in the morning in charge of Wm. Crum, a fine sermon by Rev. W. E. Collins and an afternoon program consisting of a grand concert by the American quartet and a lecture on the social revolution in Russia by Prof. E. A. Ross. The evening program consisting of community singing led by Rev. W. E. Collins, vespers service by Rev. E. B. Landis, concert by the American quartet and a lecture by Lieutenant Rosselli of the Italian army.

The American Quartet.
This fine organization composed of William Beard, baritone; D. C. Williams, bass; McElroy Johnston, first tenor and John Craig, second tenor, is worth of a very extended notice. Their repertoire consisted of classical and popular music and the manner in which their efforts were received by the audience showed how much they were appreciated. They were all artists of the first quality and thoro gentlemen as well. They will always be welcome in Jacksonville.

Prof. E. A. Ross.
Delivered Sunday afternoon a lecture on the social revolution in Russia. He spent six months in that unhappy land studying conditions at first hand. Matters were very unsettled. When he left Petrograd his train was an hour and a half late as a soldier train was ahead and they told the station master they would kill him if he didn't let them out first. His train was packed by soldiers forcing their way in trying to get home and the passengers had to sit up two weeks on the journey to the soldiers were respectful to the Americans on board.

The Russians are expert in reading the faces of other people and courteous in affording information. The greater part of the people are unable to read which makes them more observing. Merchants have to hang out the articles they have for sale as most people are unable to read. The Russians are easily deceived. The czar's army knew nothing of genuine patriotism but fought only for self and the czar.

When the Russian officers asked the soldiers if they wanted the Germans to take a place the men replied, "What difference does it make to us?" In the upper classes women have many privileges which began 25 years ago. I saw one rather young woman who was a civil engineer and had superintended the construction of a railroad.

Women are sometimes placed as expert agriculturists to guide the peasant farmers. The old regime employed newspapers all over the world to bolster up their cause. The rule of the last czar was dreadful. Of the best people 100,000 were banished to Siberia. The government hired evil and irresponsible men and they persecuted the better ones.

Russia Land of Extremes.

Russia has been a land of extremes. The liberated serfs received a rotten deal. They were still well slaves, working the hardest and living the poorest while the comparatively few land owners rolled in wealth and luxury. The peasants all lived in small villages utterly monotonous lives; no amusements; no kind of pastimes; nothing but dull, stolid, drudgery and ruin of the soil. They could never organize and strikers were met with death. While labor in this country commanded $1 a day it was 30,000 were skilled labor here $3.00 and there 80 cents. Manufacturers made 20 per cent profit; the government did all for them and nothing for the toiler.

When the revolution broke out the leaders said it meant freedom of speech but the people wanted land for the peasants and better wages and so the social revolution followed when the 100,000 exiles came back. Trotsky said they would allow the manufacturers to make 6 per cent and would require them to invest their surplus in Russia. The revolutionary congress was made up of representatives, half peasants and half working men, no manufacturers, capitalists or other classes being represented.

Russians Not Betrayed.

Trotsky and Lenin are not back of the German government as has been claimed. The Bolshevik were not traitors to Russia and the czar would willingly have given Trotsky a million to be good. I am inclined to think that much of the evil said of the Bolshevik is from a factory in the pay of men who have loaned the Russian government and want the Bolsheviks overthrown because they have repudiated all Russia's debts. Still revolutions do not pay. I have no sympathy with the wealthy landowners who should be obliged to go to work as they have made the poor work in the past.

The Bolsheviks have notified factory owners that they may run a few years receiving a small margin of profit when their plants will be confiscated and as a consequence most factories are shut down, and all manner of supplies are lacking. The lower part of the country produced the grain to feed the northern part but grain boats have not ascended the Volga along its 2500 miles of navigable waters bearing to Moscow, Petrograd and other northern parts their food and starvation stares a large part of the northern part of the country in the face and greater suffering in general than under the rule of the czar. The Bolshevik represents the feeling of hosts who have

VALE VARDAMAN

Editor Journal:

The sovereign voters of Mississippi did a good thing when they retired Senator James K. Vardaman to the realms of innocuous desuetude. He is and always has been an obstructionist and a political blatherkite. He is a representative of the old South, although not an old man in years, and reminds one of the Legree type of so-called Southern chivalry. From his point of view there is nothing good in a man in a black skin including such men as Frederick Douglass and Booker T. Washington, either one of whom were intellectual giants in comparison with this swarthy swash-buckler who misrepresents the intelligent people of Mississippi.

Several years ago while I had charge of Memorial Hall at the State House one day Governor Deen came into the department and introduced me to this senatorial misfit, who was a gubernatorial misfit at that time. During the conversation I had with him in reference to "the wah between the states, suh," the conversation easily turned to politics and the "Mississippi way of voting." I asked him if the negroes were allowed to vote as freely as the whites. He replied:

"Most assuredly, suh! If they vote the democratic ticket, suh, their votes are counted, but if they vote the republican ticket, suh, their votes are not counted. The constitution gives the state the right to regulate the ballot and we of the south know how to regulate the franchise. The black belt it sometimes becomes necessary to use the persuasive eloquence of the shotgun, suh, and our people are experts with that weapon. So far as we are concerned, suh, the 13th amendment to the constitution is a dead letter, suh, as you may well know. Our people will never submit to Negro domination and the people of the north can never force such damnable doctrine upon the people of the south who well remember the reconstruction period following the close of the 'wah between the states.'"

Mr. Vardaman is the typical southerner of ante-bellum days, a kind of barbarian who neither fights nor learns anything. He is a rank traitor to his state and the nation and a pacifist of the yellowest kind. Men of his type are the agents of the Kaiser and are a stumbling block in the way of a vigorous prosecution of the war now raging over half of the world. When this doughty son of the "ancient chivalry of the south" said he was opposed to ever allowing the colored soldiers of Mississippi to return after the war is over he stamped himself as a traitor and man have been backed up against a wall and introduced to a firing squad for saying less. Men of his type are responsible for the strife and prejudice that has existed between the whites and colored of the south all the years since the close of the slaveholders' rebellion more than a half century ago. The vast majority of the southern people do not believe and think as does Vardaman, otherwise they would not have regaled him to the share of political oblivion which he is so eminently fitted to adorn.

And the same thing may be said of Cole Bleasie, of South Carolina, who tried to step into the shoes of the late Senator Tillman, who for years divided his sympathies between the old and the new south but finally died a fairly conservative representative of progressive public opinion. What the south needs today is a few more John B. Gordons and Henry Grady's who had the courage of their convictions and stood for them altho it was decidedly unpopular to do so. Gordon was a great soldier who fought to the last ditch for the Lost Cause. When the little affair at Appomattox was settled he just became an American of the one hundred per cent type and so remained till the bugle sounded taps for that splendid statesman and magnificent leader of the hosts in gray but who, when conquered, became loyal to the old flag and preached peace and obedience to the laws of the country he had fought for four years to destroy. And his memory is revered almost as much here in Illinois as it is in Georgia where he is the idol of the people from Chickamauga clear down to the sea.

Grady was a type of the new south, and as editor of the Atlanta Constitution wielded a mighty pen in the interest of our common country. He believed in peace between the sections and did all in his power to bring it about. As soldier and statesman Gordon was a magnificent specimen, and as editor and philosopher Grady was pre-eminently the peer of any mind the south ever produced. And when he passed on the sunny south mourned for a lost friend, a courageous American and a chivalrous soul in all that term implies.

On my last trip through Georgia a few years ago where I had been to help dedicate the Illinois-Andersonville monument, on my return trip I stayed over in Atlanta several hours and had a chance to go through the capitol of Georgia. It soon became apparent to me that the people of the "Goober State" were better friends to the old veterans of the "Lost Cause" than are the people of Illinois to the veterans who fought for and saved the Union. Nearly every position in the Georgia state house was occupied by a confederate veteran, and they gave our monument commission a most royal and hearty greeting. I called on Governor Hoke Smith (now senator) and said: "The governor of Illinois sends greetings to the governor of Georgia," which called forth quite an eloquent speech from the "gubernatorial goober grabber."

The gist of his remarks was that we were all friends now and unassured one flag with a buried past and a glorious future in prospect. Notwithstanding his splendid fulmination and heroic rhetoric Old Glory was conspicuous by its absence. But in the rotunda and corridors of the great building there were confederate flags and banners aplenty, mounted evidences of a bitter past, around which clustered memories of a heroic age and a cause that was lost and a new era of freedom that was born on crimson fields around historic Atlanta and other sections of the sunny south. While there the memory of other far off days came over me—bitter memories, for it was during the siege and bombardment of that city in '64 that I was captured and later taken to Andersonville for a sojournment of nine months as a "guest" of Captain Henri Wirz. But all the rest is like a tale that is told.

Whether the south loves Old Glory or not the fact remains that the sons of the blue and the gray are today touching elbows and marching and fighting on the far flung battle lines in France and Belgium for universal freedom and universal democracy. And it would seem that Lincoln's prophesy has come true when he said, "The mystic chords of memory, stretching from every battle field, to every patriotic heart and hearthstone, over all this broad land, will yet swell the chorus of the Union when touched, as they surely will be, by the better angels of our nature." 'Tis a glorious consummation and one devoutly to be thankful for, for the present world war has united the north and south as never before and forever relegates Mason and Dixon's line to merited oblivion. So be it, and damned be he who would say or do ought to kindle anew the fires of hate and prejudice between races, or colors, or previous conditions of servitude. "Only stand, divided we fall," should be our slogan, and let us move on as a mighty crusade for human liberty, the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of man, with never a thought of quitting till the earth is made safe for human habitation with no one to molest or make them afraid.

J. M. Swales.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Must Be Better Adapted to the Needs of the People

DURING the reconstruction period after the war, a new program of American efficiency must be worked out.

TO accomplish this there must be hearty co-operation between trained educators and men of practical affairs.

WILL TRAIN SOLDIERS AT OLD ILLINOIS

CONTRACT WITH GOVERNMENT APPROVED BY TRUSTEES

All Students Eighteen Years Old or More Must Live at Barracks — Strict Military Training Along With Academic Work — All Will Be in Army in Less Than Year.

When the fall term begins at Illinois college both the students and the public will realize that it is a military institution, under the control of the government of the United States. As a matter of fact, all young men who enroll as students at the college and who are eighteen years of age or older will be in the army service and as members of the student army training corps will be just as much under army supervision as they would if they were taking training at a cantonment.

Dr. C. H. Rammekamp, president of the college, has just returned from Ft. Sheridan, where he went to attend a conference of college presidents and members of faculties representing the institutions from twenty-five different states. Colonel Rees, of the general staff of the army, chairman of the committee on education and special training of the war department was present made address and led in the general discussion. The purpose of the conference was to come to a clear understanding with reference to military instruction to be given in universities and colleges.

There's No Waste, it Saves Fuel and Sugar, and it is American. Not least, it is Delicious, Healthful, and it Satisfies.

under present government plans.

Military Training.
As indicated, young men of the age of eighteen years or more, when they enter Illinois college or other institutions where units for military training have been established, will take military training in addition to academic work. Here Crampton hall, present dormitory of the college, will become an army barracks and the students in training will be required to live there. The students who are thus in training will have uniforms, rifles and other equipment provided by the government, and their board, room and tuition will also be paid by the government. The men in training will also be paid the same salaries as privates in the cantonments and so in every way the men in the student army training corps will have the same status as men in the army.

President Rammekamp said last night that from the number of inquiries that have been received that there will be a largely increased attendance of students of the ages mentioned. Milliken University is the nearest institution where a military unit will be established. Provision is now being made for housing at least 100 men in Crampton Hall. Cots are being secured, to be used until the equipment provided by the government has been received.

Men who are students at Whipple academy or the Conservatory of Music of the ages mentioned will have the privilege of training in the student army corps, but will be required to provide their own uniforms and will not receive pay.

Government Contract Approved.
Dr. Rammekamp and members of the faculty were in conference recently to arrange for the necessary modification of the college schedule and to adapt the college courses to the needs of the men who will be enlisted in the student army training corps. Monday evening a meeting of trustees was held. The president and secretary, by a vote of the board, were authorized to execute a contract with the government for carrying out the details of the approved plans.

While the original suggestion was that Illinois college might be combined with some other schools for this training unit, it is the hope of the college authorities that sufficient men will be enlisted so as to require the entire time of the army officer to be detailed here. On the basis of the large number of inquiries already received, it seems entirely probable that the equipment of the college will be taxed to take care of the men who enroll.

Army Officer in Charge.
It is expected that the army officer who is assigned to Illinois college will arrive not later than October 1. Asked last night as to what difference the new order of things would make to the young women students, Dr. Rammekamp indicated that there will be no material change in their status. While they, of course, will not take military training, they can attend practically all of the academic classes. It is being arranged, also, for young women to take special courses in domestic science and in food conservation work during the hours that the young men are drilling.

Judging from a statement made in the senate during the debate on the man-power bill, college students who are in the training corps will be in the army service not later than next July, for, as already stated, the government is planning for at least 2,000,000 additional men by that time, and the young men in the colleges will be needed. That the military training will be strict is indicated by the following work outline for each day by the military authorities.

The Daily Routine.
Each college is asked to follow this program as nearly as possible:
Reveille—6:45 a. m.
Mess—7 o'clock.
Military drilling—7:30 to 9:30.
Academic studies—9:30 to 12.
Mess—12 to 1 o'clock.
Academic studies—1 to 4:30.
Athletics—4:30 to 5:30.
Supper—6 o'clock.
Supervised studies—7:30 to 9:30.
Taps—10 o'clock.

Different Lines of Work.
After students have been trained for a period there are several possibilities as to what work they will later be assigned. A student soldier may be transferred to a central officers' training camp or to a non-commissioned officers' training camp; he may be assigned for intensive work along the specified line or to a vocational training section, or he may be transferred to a cantonment for duty with troops as a private.

While at Ft. Sheridan Dr. Rammekamp met Prof. Whisler, Joel Crouch, Wilbur Rogers, John Lee and Raymond Wallace, who went from Illinois college some weeks ago for the special training. They will be assistants to the army officer when the training work begins here.

FUNERALS

Miller.
Funeral services for Cortland J. Miller were held from Union Baptist church Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in charge of the Rev. J. E. Curry, of Waverly. The flowers were in charge of Mrs. Ernest Dyer, Mrs. Ralph Miller, Mrs. Escher Story and Miss Esther Sample. Burial was in Union cemetery, the bearers being Sherman Boyer, Jesse Alexander, Ernest Strong, Andrew Roach, Ralph Hamilton and Clinton Story.

James.
The funeral services held at Murrayville, Sunday, in memory of Mrs. Bessie James were of a very impressive kind. Because Mrs. James was widely known and from the facts relating to her sudden death, the attendance was larger than would otherwise have been true, and the assembled audience of sorrowing friends more than filled the Methodist church. The impressive services were in charge of Rev. W. H. McGhee, pastor of the church, who spoke in an appropriate but brief way. Various comforting passages of scripture were read and the minister offered two very earnest prayers. He referred to the useful and unselfish life of the deceased and mentioned the very sad circumstances surrounding her sudden death. Mrs. James, after finishing her own education, became a teacher and had held positions in a number of localities in this county and during the past year had served in one of the Springfield schools. In fact, it had been her plan to begin the work of this school year yesterday.

In all her school positions Mrs. James manifested the same spirit of earnestness and those familiar with her work appreciated the help she gave the pupils thru her kindly influence, as well as thru the courses of study which she so earnestly directed. The deceased had been an active and consistent member of the Murrayville church and the large course of sorrowing friends gave proof of the high regard in which she was held and the real appreciation of her spirit and worth.

Music was supplied by a quartette composed of Mrs. Short, Misses Floreca Short, Mildred Wright and Stella Cunningham. The selections included, "Shadows," "Sometime We'll Understand," and "Some Sweet Day." There was an especially beautiful display of flowers, friends from Springfield, Chicago and St. Louis, in addition to those from her home county, thus expressing their sympathy for the sorrowing family. The flowers were cared for by Misses Helen McGhee, Eloise King, Florence Short, Jessie Lovell, Lula Coulton and Mrs. Ruth Fuller.

Interment was in the Murrayville cemetery and the bearers were W. O. Beadles, N. C. Carlson, C. R. Short, O. N. Angelo, H. E. Millon and W. R. Wade.

HE WON'T DROP DEAD ANY MORE

"My husband suffered terribly from stomach and liver trouble, which caused such bloating of gas as to seriously affect his heart. Doctors warned him that he might drop dead at any time from this trouble. A friend in Cleveland advised him to take Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and since taking it, 4 months ago, he is feeling like a young man again. All his friends are surprised at his appearance." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

THE IDEAL WIFE

One of the most successful men of this country recently wrote: "Whatever I am, and whatever success I have attained, I owe it all to my wife. She has ever been an inspiration and the greatest helpmate of my life." To be such a successful wife should be the ambition of every woman, but how impossible when dragged down by headaches, backache, dragging-down pains, nervousness and "the blues." Every woman in this condition should start at once to build up her system by a tonic of specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for three generations has been restoring American women to health and consequent happiness.—Adv.

REV. H. H. DEWITT RETURNS FROM THE ASSOCIATION.
Rev. H. H. DeWitt has returned from attending the sessions of the annual Wood River Baptist association of colored churches. It embraces all the territory between a line run across the state east and west at East St. Louis and Galesburg and there were present 150 delegates. The exercises lasted from Tuesday till Sunday and were interesting and uplifting. Mr. DeWitt was chosen moderator for the sixteenth consecutive time, which is certainly a great compliment to the gentleman's ability as an executive and presiding officer.

Liberal appropriations were made to the training school at Nashville, Tenn., to the Women's Training School at Washington Heights, District of Columbia, a place where young women receive a high school education and beneficial manual training; and the Great Western College at Macon, Mo., an institution for the education of colored young people of both sexes. Home and foreign missions were also remembered in a liberal manner. Many matters pertaining to the welfare of the church in general were discussed and much was accomplished during the five days the association was in session.

SIBERIA.

The conquest of Siberia was begun by the Cossacks in 1580. About 90 per cent of the population of Siberia is of Russian origin.

Nine-tenths of the inhabitants of western Siberia are engaged in agriculture. The entire population of Siberia is estimated at little more than 7,000,000.

The Siberian winters are long and exceedingly severe, the summers short and hot. Siberia has long been the greatest source of supply of the fur trade of the world.

While Siberia has many schools it has but one university, which is located at Tomsk. Siberia has an area more than one and one-half times as great as that of the United States.

Vladivostok, the great Siberian port on the Pacific, was founded by Russia in the year 1860. Siberia contains rich deposits of graphite, used chiefly in the manufacture of lead pencils.

Virtually all of the crops common to the temperate zone can be produced in abundance in the vast agricultural regions of southern Siberia.

The Trans-Siberian railway represents the greatest railway undertaking in the world. It cost nearly $175,000,000 and took eleven years to build.

The city of Tomsk is the largest manufacturing center of Siberia, having flour mills, potteries, iron foundries, sugar refineries, and a variety of other factories.

A uniform system of justice in Siberia was instituted by the Czar in 1897, in place of the existing arbitrary system of administration by autocratic officials.

Peter the Great began to send prisoners to Siberia in 1710. The system was continued for 200 years, until abolished in 1910, except in the case of political offenders.

Irkutsk, the seat of the administration of government in Siberia is a city of more than 125,000 inhabitants and contains many handsome buildings and modern improvements.

Of recent years thousands of Russian peasants have settled in Siberia to carry on agriculture, and nearly all the fertile soil free of forest and outside the steppes has been occupied.

One of the principal Siberian cities is Tobolsk, the commercial center of the vast Province of Tobolsk, which extends over an area of 500,000 square miles, a large portion of which, however, is practically uninhabited. The most prominent building in the city is the Kremlin, built in imitation of the great citadel in Moscow. This structure was erected by Swedish prisoners of war captured by Peter the Great at the battle of Poltava in 1709.

Ray Miller, of Kokuk, Iowa, spent Sunday in the city, the guest of L. W. Harvey, of 115 East College street.

A TOUCHING STORY.
A recent number of the Boston Congregationalist and Advance has a beautiful story of the intelligence and devotion of a dog. A stranger was passing along the street of a small place when he observed a little girl playing with a wonderfully intelligent dog which she called Bingo. The dog would permit himself to be dressed; would bring anything for which he was sent and seemed to know and understand all that was said to him.

The gentleman accosted the little girl and admired the wonderful dog and then told her he was seeking just that kind of dogs for service in our army across the seas. The mother was consulted and said she had given a son to the cause of his country and she couldn't well refuse the dog for while he was dear to them he was not as dear as Robert. And so a tearful good-bye was said to Bingo at his old home.

A company of American soldiers had been in an engagement and it was thought the wounded had all been brought off and the dead would have to wait to the next day. Robert lay supposedly dead but only stunned and while there had thoughts of Bingo and of home and he thought he imagined Bingo barking about him and licking his face and then he swooned away and knew no more till he found himself lying in a clean bed in the hospital. He was very weak with his dreadful wound and hardly conscious of what he was saying or doing.

"I don't see hat is the matter with this dog," said the head nurse at the hospital. "He brought us the cap of a man supposed to be dead the night after the battle and made such a fuss and begged so hard for some one to go with him that I sent two stretcher bearers with him and they brought back this man and we feel sure he will recover but we can't drive the dog away, tho heretofore he has been of the most faithful and industrious animals."

Just then Robert moved unassisted in his bed and murmured "Bingo" and with a howl of delight and to the dismay of the nurse, the dog leaped on the bed and passionately licked the face of the invalid who roused up and said:

"Why Bingo are you here?" and then told the nurse how they do "Bingo" had been. With all haste a letter was dispatched to the far away home telling them that "Bingo" had saved his master's life and how glad they were they had given him to his country.

TWO DEPARTMENTS ARE COMBINED

Commissioner Martin Will Direct Street Work in Addition to Own Department—Higher Pay for City Employees—Reports of Officers.

City employees were granted another increase of $19 per month at the session of the city council held Monday morning. This increase, however, does not apply to the attorney, treasurer, public engineer, health warden or city hall janitor, it being the opinion of the council that advances previously given these officers is sufficient.

This advance, like others, was given because of the increasing difficulty of securing workers and the fact that city employees must stand a heavy discount on their salary warrants in order to cash them. The council also gave the first reading to an ordinance which does away with the present discount of 25 per cent allowed on water bills if paid within the first ten days of the month and adding a penalty of 5 per cent if payment is not made within this period. The ordinance will be passed at the next meeting, so that the rate will apply for September bills.

It was determined that for the present at least, the duties of supervising the street department should be consolidated with those of Mr. Martin as commissioner of public health and safety. It is likely that Mr. Martin will name a superintendent of streets and that the two departments will be conducted as one, without the appointment of a successor for the late Commissioner Cox.

Mr. Vasconcellos reported trouble with one of the motors at the north side station and gave the facts also about recent boiler inspection at the light plant which showed that the boilers are in good condition.

Burning Refuse.

Mr. Martin reported that the work of burning of some of the refuse at the city dumping ground had progressed in a satisfactory way until rainy weather had interfered. He said further, that a statement from Major Williamson indicated that he had no specifications available for the construction of incinerating plant but could furnish data which he believed would make it easily possible to build a plant here.

Dr. Hemmenway, officer of the state health department, has expressed a willingness to come to Jacksonville and assist Mr. Martin in the construction of the plant. In answer to a question Mr. Martin said that there are three day policemen and four on the night.

The commissioner said he was aware that there are many violations of the traffic ordinance but with a limited force it is practically impossible to arrest all violators. The commissioner said that he could not understand why the public did not seem willing to observe this law as a mere matter of patriotism as protection for the public, when they had indicated the day before a willingness to observe the government's request for the conservation of gasoline.

Paving Report.

Mayor Rodgers for the department of public affairs referred to the fact that the paving in the loop district has been done and that stone at least in sufficient amount for foundation on one side, has been placed on South Main street. He said that the sprayer to be used with the tarvia was shipped from St. Louis on August 27 and would certainly be here in the course of a very short time. The mayor expressed the hopeful view that work on the East State street car track will begin this week, which will be a strong indication that the pavement on that street will also be done this fall.

Mr. Widmayer had nothing hopeful to offer in the department of finance and made a motion that all bills be paid when funds are available. An ordinance was given the first reading providing $3,750 for the redemption of water improvement bonds and $3,750 for the payment of interest on the bonds, in accordance with the vote at the election May 20. It is necessary to take this action and have it recorded with the county clerk before the third Tuesday in September is any of the bonds are redeemed or the interest paid next July.

The council by unanimous vote passed a suitable resolution honoring the memory of Jerry Cox, commissioner, recently deceased. When the resolution was mentioned Mayor Rodgers referred to the many excellent qualities of Mr. Cox as an honest, earnest public servant and a high class citizen.

A communication was received from the board of education, signed by Mrs. Mary Pierson as secretary, thanking the council for the action taken so promptly in permitting the building of a tunnel across Jordan street to carry the heating pipes for the David Prince building.

Officers' Reports.

The reports of officers were received and approved. W. H. Cobb, for the water department, reported total collections of $2,637.78, including water rents $2,599.35, meters repaired $21.45, sewers $10, miscellaneous $7.

The report of Charles B. Graff, city treasurer, showed a balance in the general fund of $11,845.

City Clerk R. L. Pratt reported receipts as follows: Jacksonville cemetery 103.50, Diamond Grove cemetery $249.60, city clerk's office $253.

Harry Summers, sexton of Diamond Grove cemetery, reported twelve graves made during the month and John Pires, sexton of Jacksonville cemetery, reported seventeen graves made.

CUT BARBERRY BUSHES

The statement of Prof. Gilbert at the Chautauqua, Sunday night, regarding barberry bushes, was indeed startling and without doubt the gentleman knows where of he speaks. We never want smut in wheat and least of all times now. It was indeed remarkable that the evil could be carried from a bush twenty-five miles and infect a wheat field, yet such he said was the case. A good many don't know the bush when they see it, and a good many do know it. He said the Japanese variety was not injurious, but the other kind is. He also said that if any one had doubts or lack of understanding on the subject, Rev. J. O. Kirkpatrick could enlighten them as to the identity of the noxious plant. Let us all get busy and do away with the menace to the wheat crop.

BUSINESS COLLEGE

WILL OPEN TODAY

Brown's Business College will open this morning for the school year. Yesterday was enrollment for students and during the day to be enrolled. This, however, does not represent all of the pupils who will be enrolled as the heavy rain of Monday morning kept many boys and girls from the country from getting in. Principal Claybaugh said last night that they were busy all afternoon with enrollments and that indications pointed to a most successful school year.

REPORT OF 7TH FEDERAL RESERVE DISTRICT

Grain Estimates Give Promise of Large Harvest, Despite of Previous Calculations—Strong Demand for Loans.

Despite drought and heat waves of exceptional severity, with resulting impairment of crop prospects, a decidedly hopeful feeling prevails throughout the Seventh Federal Reserve District. Grain estimates, while necessarily falling below previous calculations, still give promise of large harvests, and the patriotic spirit of employees who, in spite of high temperatures, have continued at work, has tended to discount any check to manufacturing of an essential character. With more than enough essential business to absorb the available supply of raw materials and to keep labor well employed, prosperity seems to prevail in an usual degree. Especially is this condition reflected in communities where considerable war work is available while localities not so favored, owing to the crops harvested or approaching harvest, give assurance of continued good business.

Demand for Loans.

Throughout the District, and especially in the industrial sections a very strong demand for loans prevails at firm rates, money ruling strong at six per cent, with the feeling expressed that there will be slight deviation from this rate for the period of the war. The patriotic and co-operative spirit manifested by the banks enabled this District to very materially over-subscribe its allotment of United States Certificates of Indebtedness in the latest issue. Allotments were absorbed with comparative ease, at the same time keeping essential business operative and permitting the financing of large volumes of government business without any crippling of resources.

Early marketing of grain has appreciably eased the financial situation, especially in the smaller money centers, and an increased tendency in this direction is indicated as the market of other farm products proceeds. The Federal Reserve Bank is cooperating in the financing of a very heavy crop movement. Some acceptances are being used in connection with these operations.

Wheat, oats, and other small grain have practically been harvested with splendid yields. The large, if not the bumper crop of corn, as indicated by early reports of correspondents, has been materially reduced by the intense heat conditions suffered during the month of August. The damage is confined to the southern part of the district, principally in the State of Iowa, where recent reports from the affected area predict a 25,000,000 bushel loss. Outside the stricken district, corn appears to be in better than the average condition and with recent showers, accompanied by cooler weather, harvest of this crop promises to be large. The potato crop in Michigan, Wisconsin and Iowa, other than in localities affected by the drought, holds good promise. A general decrease in the flow of milk is reported, owing to the short and dry pastures.

Award Future Obligations

With increased restrictions of civilian wants, there is a growing disinclination among dealers and manufacturers alike to incur obligations extending into the future. While Government price fixing has effected a healthy and stable condition in various lines of industries and business, some anxiety is expressed by retailers as to the effect of future progress along this line, especially in staples that have not yet come under government supervision.

War Needs Still Continue to Dominate the Dry Goods Markets

and, with steadily tightening restrictions on regular trading purchases for future delivery have been lessened considerably. Jobbers are adjusting prices to the new levels fixed at mill centers by the Government, and it is hoped there will soon be an abatement of the hesitation that has appeared for some time in retail channels.

The Government restrictions have greatly reduced the volume of business derived from the sale of sugar, wholesale grocers report an exceptionally good trade, with an increased demand for canned goods. Canning factories are beginning to operate with good prospects for an excellent pack.

High prices continue to prevail in the live stock market. Drought conditions have brought about heavy shipments. Receipts of live stock at Chicago for the four weeks' period ending August 17, 1918, as compared with a like period in 1917:

	Cattle	Calves
1918	252,783	36,504
1917	180,463	29,649

	Hogs	Sheep
1918	456,466	296,823
1917	364,626	216,876

Deferred classification and enlistment refusal from the employees who cannot readily be replaced has helped to remove a condition that until recently threatened to materially decrease the production of coal. More available cars has created decided improvement in the coal transportation problem. The showing an increase, the output of the Illinois mines is still far short of the demand.

Labor is well employed at high wages, showing somewhat of an independent spirit in view of the large demand for men. The United States Employment Service Committee is expected, thru its operations, to call the migratory tendency of labor, brought about by increased wages and competition among employers for men, especially in the train-diesel field.

Steel Demand Strong.

Orders for steel continue to call for a tonnage considerably in excess of the output. Automobile manufacturers working to full capacity on war orders are not suffering from the curtailment of their pleasure car output.

Clothing manufacturing is well engaged. Owing to the shortage of woollens, spring offerings in the clothing line will be large and comparative both in quantity and quality. However, large stocks on hand will enable retail merchants to take care of the demand for some time to come.

Manufacturers of agricultural implements are experiencing a normal amount of business for this season of the year. Tractors are busy supplying insistent demands for leather. Boot and shoes continue in active demand, with large Government orders being given preference over civilian business. Dealers in hardware are now operating under a pledge to the War Industries Board to sell finished steel and iron products only for essential purposes and are further handicapped by increasing difficulties in securing materials. Piano manufacturers with reduced outputs, report a demand for their product in excess of the supply with a corresponding increase in selling price.

Jewelers report business in excess of corresponding periods in 1917, the bulk of the business in fine jewelry and watches.

Brewers Decrease Production

Brewers report a further decrease in production, with wholesale prices showing an increase of 10 per cent over last year. Confectioners, still operating under the 50 per cent sugar restriction, are utilizing their sugar supply to the utmost and are necessarily experiencing a period of readjustment.

A slight increase in activity is reported in the investment securities market, limited, however, to the trading of individuals, trustees and financial institutions other than banks. The clause in the new tax providing an income tax on municipal bonds, heretofore exempt has discouraged trading in this class of securities.

Trading in building materials other than those involved in operations directly connected with the prosecution of the war has practically come to a standstill. Building permits and values involved in fifteen cities for the month of July show a reduction over the corresponding month in 1917. July, 1918, permits totaled 2,553, valued at $10,226,595, as against 2,700 permits valued at $11,660,288 a year ago.

Collections, as reported by all correspondents, have never been better and outstandings have touched the lowest records in history. Merchants generally report that while sales in amount of merchandise handled are not as large as in previous years, the amount in dollars and cents and profits compares favorably and in most instances shows an increase over corresponding previous periods. All lines of business and industry are experiencing a shortage of labor and are confronted by the problem of securing sufficient goods and material to supply the demand.

Chicago Clearings.

Clearings in Chicago for the first fifteen business days of August were $1261,000,000, being $137,000,000 more than for the corresponding fifteen business days in August, 1917. Clearings reported by twenty-one cities in the District outside of Chicago amounted to $202,000,000 for the first fifteen days of August, 1918, as compared with $142,000,000 for the first fifteen days of August, 1917. Deposits in twelve reserve city member banks in Chicago were $877,000,000 at the close of business August 17, 1918 and loans were $553,000,000. Deposits show an increase of approximately $58,000,000 over last month and loans an increase of approximately $19,000,000.
